NORRIS COTTON CANCER CENTERS BRING OUR SUPERIOR CARE CLOSER TO YOU

Located in Lebanon, N.H., NCCC has regional centers in Manchester, Nashua, Keene, N.H., and St. Johnsbury, Vt. Then there are 12 other hospitals throughout New Hampshire and Vermont where people can access this outstanding, evidenced-based care.

THE FRIENDS OF NORRIS COTTON CANCER CENTER IS A GROUP OF PEOPLE WHO LIVE AND WORK IN VERMONT, NEW HAMPSHIRE AND MASSACHUSETTS AND WHO ARE DEDICATED TO HELPING NCCC AND THE 31,000 PEOPLE TREATED ANNUALLY HERE, IN THE FIGHT AGAINST CANCER.

Since its formation in 1982, the Friends has supported the work of Dartmouth-Hitchcock Norris Cotton Cancer Center by raising funds for cancer research and patient services, increasing awareness for this world-class, NCI-designated comprehensive cancer center, and acting as ambassadors between the Cancer Center and the communities it serves. Over three decades, more than $23 million has been raised in support of physicians, researchers, nurses, staff and patients and their families. The Friends raises money through a variety of community fundraising events including most significantly its signature event, The Prouty.

Just as the Cancer Center is committed to bringing its evidence-based research and care closer to where patients live, so, too, is the Friends committed to supporting that mission. To that end, the Friends, originally centered only in Lebanon, N.H., has established a second Friends group reaching out to the Manchester and Nashua, N.H., and northern Massachusetts areas. Like the Cancer Center, the aim of the Friends is to continue to serve these communities, bringing excellence in cancer care closer to your home.

NORRIS COTTON CANCER CENTER IS

one of the finest cancer research and treatment facilities in the country. It competes for and receives funding from the National Cancer Institute (NCI), the National Institutes of Health (NIH), and other federal and private entities.

The following list includes only some of the awards and titles earned by NCCC researchers.

NORRIS COTTON CANCER CENTER IS:

- One of only nine Cancer Nanotechnology Centers of Excellence in the US
- The only NCI-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center in northern New England (one of 41 in the country)
- An NCI-funded Breast Cancer Screening Research Center
- An NCI-funded Program in Alternative Breast Cancer Imaging Modalities

BEING TREATED at a National Cancer Institute-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center can make a difference in your results.

It is because cancer touches so many people that Dartmouth-Hitchcock Norris Cotton Cancer Center (NCCC) is such an important resource in New Hampshire and Vermont.

As designated by the National Cancer Institute, NCCC is one of only 41 comprehensive cancer centers in the country and the single such facility in all of northern New England. This distinction places us in an elite class of institutions recognized for excellence in cancer research and treatment. Receiving treatment at NCCC means having access to cutting-edge research and state-of-the-art technology right here, right now, and right near your home.

NCCC combines the advanced cancer research of Geisel School of Medicine at Dartmouth with the patient-centered care of Dartmouth-Hitchcock. This renowned cancer facility is dedicated to providing the best research-based treatment and prevention options available, diagnosing and treating all types of cancer and offering more than 150 open clinical trials. World-class research is conducted here by 150 investigators working on more than 200 research projects which will affect the way cancer patients are treated around the world.

*"I felt almost immediately from that first meeting with my nurse coordinator as though I was being treated as a person and not a patient."
— cancer survivor, Terry LeMasurier.*
